Travelling by rail

Our escorted tours have been expertly planned and travel on the best trains available. Leisurely journeys by rail bring so much more to your holiday, passing through breath taking scenery and taking you to the very heart of your destination.

Eurostar & London St Pancras International

London St Pancras International is a destination in its own right – a historic station, beautifully restored with a striking blend of contemporary architecture and Victorian charm. It is home to a fine selection of shops and boutiques, award-winning restaurants, and there's even the longest champagne bar in Europe where you can start your holiday with a glass of bubbly.

It is also home of Eurostar – the high-speed railway service that revolutionised travel between London and Europe. Passing through the Channel Tunnel between the UK and France, this reliable mode of transport connects with over 100 destinations across Europe. Departure times range from early morning and mid-afternoon, with check-in closing just 30 minutes before each train departs, making this a really convenient way to travel. Exact times are confirmed with your joining instructions.

High-speed trains

Travelling across Europe has never been easier thanks to the innovative high-speed trains that we see today. The French TGV, German ICE and International Thalys offer the ultimate in high-speed rail travel, using the latest technology and providing a highly reliable service thanks to their dedicated tracks linking major cities.

Local Trains

Local rail services connect smaller towns and villages, often following a more scenic route.

Flexible Options

Travel from regional stations

On many of our holidays you can enjoy the benefits of regional rail travel and arrive at London St Pancras International relaxed and ready for your onward adventure. A small supplement will apply – please see the map below. For further information please contact our Holiday Advisors who will be happy to help.

Please note: Regional rail departures are on request and subject to availability and your Tour Manager will meet you at London St Pancras International Station.
